

BRITISH ARMY

The British Army, one of the most sophisticated and technologically advanced armies in the world, turned to Zoom Technologies when a requirement arose for WAN technology training.

Our engineers flew down to London and trained the British Army on how to establish WAN networks.

Our network engineer, Mr GangaRaju(extreme right) with his British Army class